

Abram and Lot separated because their people could not work together.

Abram was in essence Lot's spiritual father, but Lot chose the well-watered plains and separated himself from his mentor, his leader, and his intercessor.

The result was ending up in Sodom where he would have his righteous soul vested, and his children would die, his wife would turn back and become a Pillar of Salt, and Lot eventually ended up duked by his daughters into the most disgusting sin imaginable.

Be careful when you disconnect from those who have cared for you spiritually, it never leads to good.

- Timothy Nail